

BULL and BEAR are hibernating for the winter.

In May they will be re-rigged (you're invited to the all-volunteer rigging party!) and will return to Annapolis in order to introduce the joys of sailing to youth groups, outreach and community programs, in addition to serving as on-water classrooms. This is through our STEM Sailing Summer Bridge program, conducted in partnership with Anne Arundel County Public Schools, which delivers lessons in Navigation and the Science of Sailing, for which students receive academic credit.

It's all part of our mission to engage the next generation of sailors!

The sandbaggers are used as part of our Free Sail Program, which offers free evening sails on Wednesday evenings for non-profit groups and supporters.

We also have individuals who support our mission to introduce people to the wonders of sailing by volunteering their boats as part of our Visiting Boats public exhibit, as well as volunteering their boat, crew and time to join BULL and BEAR in support of the Free Sail Program.
